

Index of Papers

Tuia te pō, tuia te ao, te putanga mai o ngā hua o te whakaaro ki te ao mārama

When theory and practice are combined, the fruit of this convergence is enlightenment

AUT/CPANZ Career Research Conference
29 February 2008

Bailey, R. and Richardson, M.

The “bottleneck” effect: What impact does a focus on sexual identity have on the vocational identity and career development of adolescents?

Carpenter, H.

The PAIL Model - Using a research model for everyday practice

Dyer, S. and Jones, D.

Young women law and management students’ perceptions of the gains made and continued barriers to their future career status

England, G., Van Holten, A., and Urban, J.

Career Services - Better Tertiary and Trade Training Decision Making project (Telephone Guidance Pilot)

Humphries, M. and McNicholas, P.

Career research as career development and transformational praxis. Maori women and careers in accounting: Service to empire or the seeds of subalternity?

Inkson, K.

The new international careers: Implications for career practitioners?

Ker, G.

Forced retirement of NZ elite athletes

Lips-Wiersma, M.

“Career is not dead”: Research about career development and career management

Livingstone, T.

Parents as consumers of school career services: a survey of parent preferences

Manthei, R. Keynote and Powerpoint

Encouraging career counsellors to become active researchers and users of research

McCarthy, J. Plenary Session Powerpoint

Public policy research in career guidance: An international overview

Perriam, A.

Early intervention voc rehab for people with serious spinal injury

Pio, E.

Ethnic imprint? Career conversations with Indian women in New Zealand

Ross, J.

The career as coincidence: an examination of the role of opportunity, chance and unplanned events on the careers of five mid life career women in Northland.

Southern, A.

The impact of mental illness on the career development of women in New Zealand/Aotearoa

Tharmaseelan, N.

Being an immigrant: What is the chance for career success?

Vaughan, K. (Paper not included)

Best practice but for what? Understanding new careers education priorities in complex societies